

NYCHP Social Behavioral Template for General Informed Consent Form

Read this entire instructional page prior to beginning your consent form.

Who can use this template?

This template is intended for studies that meet all of the following criteria:

1. Will enroll adult participants over the age of 18 who are able to provide consent to participate in a research study.
2. The study is NOT considered a biomedical research study.
 - A biomedical research study is a study in which one or more human subjects are prospectively assigned to one or more interventions (which may include placebo or other control) to evaluate the effects of the interventions on biomedical or behavioral health-related outcomes.

Instructions for Completing Consent Form Template

- Read all instructions prior to drafting your Informed Consent Form.
- All instructional text is in RED or is Yellow Highlighted.
- RED text in brackets [] should be replaced with information pertinent to your study, e.g., [your name here]. All text should be changed to black before submitting.
- Yellow Highlighted text provides instructions regarding the inclusion or deletion of sections, along with helpful information for completing the section.
- Some sections may need to be revised in order to meet the needs of your research study (i.e. replacing template language where necessary, deleting sections that do not pertain to your study). Contact your Research Director for guidance if you feel certain section do not pertain to your study.
- Consent form needs to be written in laymen terms with around an 8th grade reading level when tested against the Flesch-Kincaid (FK) grade level readability test. Review the NYCHP IRB Readability Level of Consent Documents guidance sheet for more information.
- Do not copy/paste directly from your research protocol, proposal, grant application, etc.
- Do not alter the letterhead, header/footer, side margins, font size (11 point), or font style (Arial) of this template.

Before you attach the Consent Form to your IRB submission, you MUST:

- Delete this instructions page, all Yellow Highlighted instructional text, and any RED text not relevant to your study.
- Change to BLACK all RED text you replaced with your study information.
- Remove all Comments, Notes, and/or Track Changes.

General Informed Consent Form

NYCHP Consent to be in a Research Study Entitled

[Title of Study (in Italics): must match title listed on New Protocol Submission xForm]

Who is doing this research study?

College: [List the academic department under which you are conducting this research study. If you are in a sub-department, list both College and Department/Academic Sub-Unit]

Principal Investigator: [Name of Principal Investigator, along with earned degrees. DO NOT LIST DEGREES IN PROCESS]

Faculty Advisor/Dissertation Chair: [insert Faculty Advisor/Dissertation Chair or CEME Resident Program Director along with earned degrees] If you are not a student or CEME Resident, delete this field.

Co-Investigator(s): [insert names of Co-Investigator(s), along with earned degrees.]

Site Information: [List information and addresses for all research sites.]

Funding: If funded by an institution or agency, add the following statement and note funding source. This study is funded by [insert name of NYCHP Grant, For-Profit Company, Non-Profit or Federal Agency]. If there is no funding, list: Unfunded

What is this study about?

This is a research study, designed to test and create new ideas that other people can use. The purpose of this research study is to [Provide a brief (3-5 sentences) background of the research study. See guidelines below].

- Briefly describe in lay-terms the purpose of the research study.
- Explain any potential benefits to others or reasons why this study needs to be done.
- Explain technical terms so that information is clear to participants. Use lay terms first, followed by any medical terms in parentheses, if applicable.

Why are you asking me to be in this research study?

You are being asked to be in this research study because [Explain why candidate or person may qualify to participate in the study. This is not intended to be a repetition of the inclusion criteria].

This study will include about [insert anticipated total number to be enrolled] people. If this is a multi-center study and only a portion of participants will be recruited at this location, include the following sentence. It is expected that [insert anticipated total number to be enrolled] people will be from this location.

What will I be doing if I agree to be in this research study?

While you are taking part in this research study, [Outline how many sessions, and how long each will take]. (e.g. 3 consecutive sessions, 1 per week, for 15 minutes each, PLUS final session for 30 minutes)].

You may have to come back to the [study site] every [insert number of days/months/years].

Research Study Procedures - as a participant, this is what you will be doing:

[Describe study procedures, in paragraph form, using the guidelines listed below]

- Discuss in lay language, all the procedures/visits in chronological order and their purposes. When listing procedures, be as specific as possible (i.e. “1 hour of survey”, not “a short while”).
- Describe all screening procedures used to determine eligibility to participate in research study.
- If there is more than one group of study participants, describe how they will be assigned to study groups and whether it is with or without randomization.
- Identify the procedures which are standard and that would have been done, even if they were not in the study (in the same timing and frequency) and which procedures are experimental (done solely for research purposes).
- Quantify procedures – for example
 - Number of each procedure per visit and total for study
 - Average length of time to complete each survey or questionnaire
- Describe the length of each visit; it is important that participants be informed of the time requirement for each study visit.

Insert the below section only if participation may be terminated by the investigator.

Could I be removed from the study early by the research team? There are several reasons why the researchers may need to remove you from the study early. Some reasons are: [Describe any anticipated circumstances under which participation may be terminated by the investigator without regard to the participant's consent, for example, if it appears that the participant may be in danger, no longer meets inclusion criteria, fails to follow study interventions, etc.]

Are there possible risks and discomforts to me?

This research study involves minimal risk to you. To the best of our knowledge, the things you will be doing have no more risk of harm than you would have in everyday life.

Describe each of the following risks, if appropriate. If known, describe the probability and magnitude of the risk. The risks of procedures may be presented in a table form.

- Physical risks
- Psychological risks
- Privacy risks
- Legal risks
- Social risks
- Economic risks
- Group or community risks

Distinguish between the risks presented by participation in the research and the risks associated with any procedures or treatments that would occur regardless of participation in the research. Also, in general, do not include results of animal studies, unless there is no other known risk information and inclusion would aid with understanding.

If the research involves any procedures, which could cause possible emotional or mental harm, include the following statement:

You may find some questions we ask you (or some things we ask you to do) to be upsetting or stressful.

Choose one of the below options.

If the researcher is prepared to offer referrals to appropriate support services, add: If so, we can refer you to someone who may be able to help you with these feelings.

If the researcher is prepared to offer materials to help participants with these feelings, add: If so, we can provide you materials to help you with these feelings.

What happens if I do not want to be in this research study?

If the participant does NOT have the option to request that their data not be used, then it should read:

You have the right to leave this research study at any time or refuse to be in it. If you decide to leave or you do not want to be in the study anymore, you will not get any penalty or lose any services you have a right to get. If you choose to stop being in the study before it is over, any information about you that was collected before the date you leave the study will be kept in the research records for 36 months from the end of the study and may be used as a part of the research. [All records must be kept for a minimum of 36 months but may be kept longer if stated here].

If the participant has the option to request that their data not be used, then it should read:

You have the right to leave this research study at any time, or not be in it. If you do decide to leave or you decide not to be in the study anymore, you will not get any penalty or lose any services you have a right to get. If you choose to stop being in the study, any information collected about you before the date you leave the study will be kept in the research records for 36 months from the end of the study but you may request that it not be used. [All records must be kept for a minimum of 36 months but may be kept longer if stated here].

What if there is new information learned during the study that may affect my decision to remain in the study?

If significant new information relating to the study becomes available, which may relate to whether you want to remain in this study, this information will be given to you by the investigators. You may be asked to sign a new Informed Consent Form, if the information is given to you after you have joined the study.

Are there any benefits for taking part in this research study? Choose one of below options, monetary compensation is NOT a benefit.

If there are direct diagnostic benefits or direct therapeutic benefits, insert:

The possible benefit of your being in this research study is [consider adding the benefits related to the intervention or procedure and/or benefits related to a research monitoring procedure which is likely to contribute to the well-being of the participant]. There is no guarantee or promise that you will receive any benefit from this study. We hope the information learned from this research study will benefit other people with similar conditions in the future.

OR if there are no direct benefits, insert:

There are no direct benefits from being in this research study. We hope the information learned from this study will [Describe any indirect benefits participants will receive or how it will help others with conditions similar to theirs.]

Will I be paid or be given compensation for being in the study?

You will not be given any payments or compensation for being in this research study.

Modify the above statement and include the following information if there is study related compensation or reimbursement. Keep in mind that reimbursement is repayment for costs to the participant because they agree to be in the study, such as car mileage, airfare, hotel accommodations, etc.

- Describe the amount or nature (provide details such as cash/check/gift card, If using a gift card as payment, please specify what retailer),
- When it will be paid/provided (provide details on frequency of compensation and timing)
- When the compensation will be prorated if the participant does not complete the study, provide a schedule.

Will it cost me anything?

There are no costs to you for being in this research study.

Modify the above statement and include the following if there are study related costs the participant may be responsible for.

[Describe the possible costs to the participant that may be incurred due to participation in the research study.]

Ask the researchers if you have any questions about what it will cost you to take part in this research study (for example bills, fees, or other costs related to the research).

How will you keep my information private?

Information we learn about you in this research study will be handled in a confidential manner, within the limits of the law and will be limited to people who have a need to review this information. [Describe procedures for protecting privacy]. This data will be available to the researcher, the Institutional Review Board and other representatives of this institution, and any regulatory and granting agencies (if applicable). If we publish the results of the study in a scientific journal or book, we will not identify you. All confidential data will be kept securely [Specify where and how data will be stored]. All data will be kept for 36 months from the end of the study [all records must be kept for a minimum of 36 months but may be kept longer if stated here] and destroyed after that time by [specify how data will be destroyed].

Will there be any Audio or Video Recording?

If no audio or video recording is used during the study, this section may be deleted.

This research study involves audio and/or video recording. This recording will be available to the researcher, the Institutional Review Board and other representatives of this institution, and any of the people who gave the researcher money to do the study (if applicable). The recording will be kept, stored, and destroyed as stated in the section above. Because what is in the recording could be used to find out that it is you, it is not possible to be sure that the recording will always be kept confidential. The researcher will try to keep anyone not working on the research from listening to or viewing the recording.

What Student/Academic Information will be collected and how will it be used? If no student/academic information will be used in the research study, this section may be deleted.

The following information will be collected from student educational records [records being collected]. These records will be used to [describe how these records will be used]. These records will be given to the Principal Investigator by [indicate how the records will be obtained].

Whom can I contact if I have questions, concerns, comments, or complaints?

If you have questions now, feel free to ask us. If you have more questions about the research, your research rights, or have a research-related injury, please contact:

Primary contact:

[Insert name and degrees] can be reached at [provide telephone number(s), with area code, that will be readily available during and after normal work hours]

If primary is not available, contact:
