

New York
COLLEGE of Health Professions

Notification of Fire Safety Standards and Measures in College Housing 2024 05

The New York College of Health Professions does not own or operate any type of housing for any students or employees of the college.

Advisory Committee on campus security reviews all fire safety standards and measures for the entire college community. The Committee reports their findings and recommendations to the President by the end of June of each year.